THE 1941

CAPITOLIAN

DEDICATION

Every annual has its dedication. This year's Capitolian is dedicated to Robert Nuchols, Jr., one of our class members who was called upon to pay the supreme price asked of man. True, Bobby has crossed the Great Divide, but not before carving his smiling face and winning ways in the hearts and fondest memories of his associates, we Seniors. Bobby departed from us during our Junior year and this dedication serves as a last tribute from his class members the Seniors of "41" to one grand person whom we are indeed proud to have associated with. Au revoir, Bobby.

CLASS WILL

We, the members of the Senior Class of 1941, being of sound mind, but about to separate and scatter to parts unknown, do hereby declare this as our last will and testament:

I, Marion Adams, leave my interest in "Flash" to anyone who feels capable of taking care of him.

I, Paul Morgan, will my ability to keep my classmates happy with my good (?) jokes to Burton Eubank.

We, Hildreth Phillips and Juanita Florian, leave our carrot-tops to Mary Ellen Hawkins.

I, Kenneth Aitken, leave a few inches and a couple of pounds to Forest Spurrier.

I, Jean Anthony, leave my yearning for beer to Ann Fraysure.

I, Ben Marshall, pass on my handsome appearance to Bobby Cleland.

I, Jane Scott Smith, leave my healthy appearance to Margaret Fincel.

I, Fred Mahan, after many years of bird study over the sights of my gun, leave my love for such an interesting subject to Ernest Smith.

I, Anna Marion Horn, will my ability to remain a one-man woman to anyone who thinks she can qualify.

I, Spencer Merwin, leave, much to my regret, the non-opening safety catch on my wallet to Johnny Hudson.

I, Sis Allen, leave my fishing line for all suckers to Alma Riddell.

I, Leonard Mitchell, leave my dots and dashes and hot flashes to Tommy Lyons.

I, Frances Marshall, leave my title of "Hedy" to any blonde, brunette, or red-head in F.H.S. who thinks she can stand the strain.

I, Eugene Perkins, will my interest in Thorn Hill to Herbert Fincel.

I, Oreda Cunningham, bequeath my love for all boys and dancing to Dorothy Tipton.

I, Billy Harrod, making my departure from this repulsive building, leave my super mentality to Bobby Brooks.

I, Nina Duvall, leave Farmer-Hudson's delivery truck and delivery boy to any one who thinks she is capable of taking care of them.

I, Jack Allen, will my interest in school, at least by attending regularly, to James Hoge.

I, Christine Barber, at last surrender my love for a certain red-head boy to Lou Avah Peavlor.

I, John Burdin, bequeath my art of photographing all school activities to anyone who is willing to accept it.

I, Jean Todd, will my ability to be heard above anyone else to Betty Fulton.

I, Billy Fields, leave my ability to look intellectual, even if I don't know a thing, to Kenny Goins.

We, Ella Reed and Helen Johnson, bequeath our dignified mannerisms to Tommy Jones.

I, Robert Armstrong, leave my individuality to T. M. Dryden.

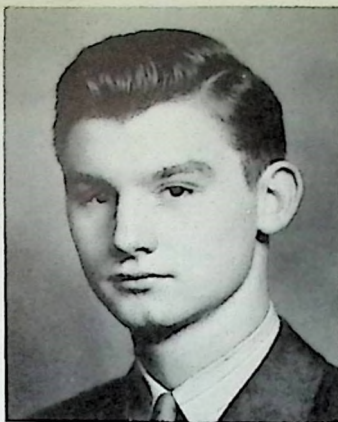

We, Doris Nesbitt and Lois Kerby, leave our debating ability to Libby Hulette.

I, Billy Bixler, will my interest in Berenice Lewis to a silent admirer.

I, Martha Utterback, bequeath my dancing shoes, used every Monday, to Eleanor Vaughn.

- I, Walter Childs, leave my flirting ability to Robert Carter.
- I, Mary Alice Armstrong, leave my love for arguments to Cecil Webster.
- I, Louis Craig, will my "sweet" disposition to Robin Caney.
- We, Carolyn Brislan, Dorothy Rodgers, and Edith Yates, leave our quietness to anyone who can be that way.
- I, Kenneth Easley, leave my continual cry "first dollar due," to the Business manager of the 1942 Capitolian.
- I, Louise Curry, will my interest in the U. S. Army, hoping to get a boy to keep, "til death do us part" to any girl who has the energy to chase one.
- I, James Estill, leave nothing—I'm taking the bankrupt law!
- I, Dorothy Harrod, will my ever friendly smile and personality that literally "mows 'em down" to Janie Moore.
- I, Robert Curry, leave my curly locks to Dudley Triplett.
- I, Mary Elizabeth Watts, bequeath my lovely soprano voice to Betty Brannon.
- I, James Goins, will my thinking cap to Joe Flynn. (He'll need it.)
- I, Juanita Colston, leave my job as head reporter on the "Panther" staff to any one who feels that he can waste the time.
- We, Billy Graham and Dede Wainscott, will our high tardiness record to Jimmy Heller.
- I, Bebe Tuttle, leave my ability to skip and get away with it to Sadie Saffell.
- I, Sherley Howell, will my interest in the O'Rear family to Donald Lancaster.
- We, Sara Willson and Christine Games, wil a few inches to Puddy Henry.
- I, Joe Hammond, leave my silent affection for Bebe Tuttle to anyone who wants it.
- I, Tessie Whitt, bequeath my dependability to Elois Simpson.
- I, William Reynolds, will and bequeath Frankfort High School to the Freshmen.
- I, Betty Fraysure, leave all my music, which I have carried to school every day this year, well nearly every day, to any person who would be sucker enough to take music.
- We, Margarette McDonald, and Evelyn Powers, leave our secretarial occupations to the teachers, for whom we have typed so many letters.
- I, Birdie Congleton, will my cute smile, accompanied by blushes, to Jane Marshall.
- I, Bertha Snelling, bequeath my baby-like features and love for Elkhorn High to my sister.
- I, Jean Whitaker, will my pencil that has been used to write so many notes to Dudley Trippett, to Jean Morrison.
- We, Martha Noel and Bettye Williams, leave our companionship all through high school to anyone who belives they would be able to stand it.
- I, Paul Demaree, leave my car—it won't start!
- I, Frances Riddell, leave my love for out of town boys and my gum-chewing technique to Betty Wilhoite.
- I, Lucy Ford, leave my blonde hair, Peroxided by Florida sunshine, to Jean Doris Jones.
- In Witness Whereof, we have hereunto set our hand at Frankfort, Kentucky, this day of June 3, 1941.

CAPITOLIAN STAFF

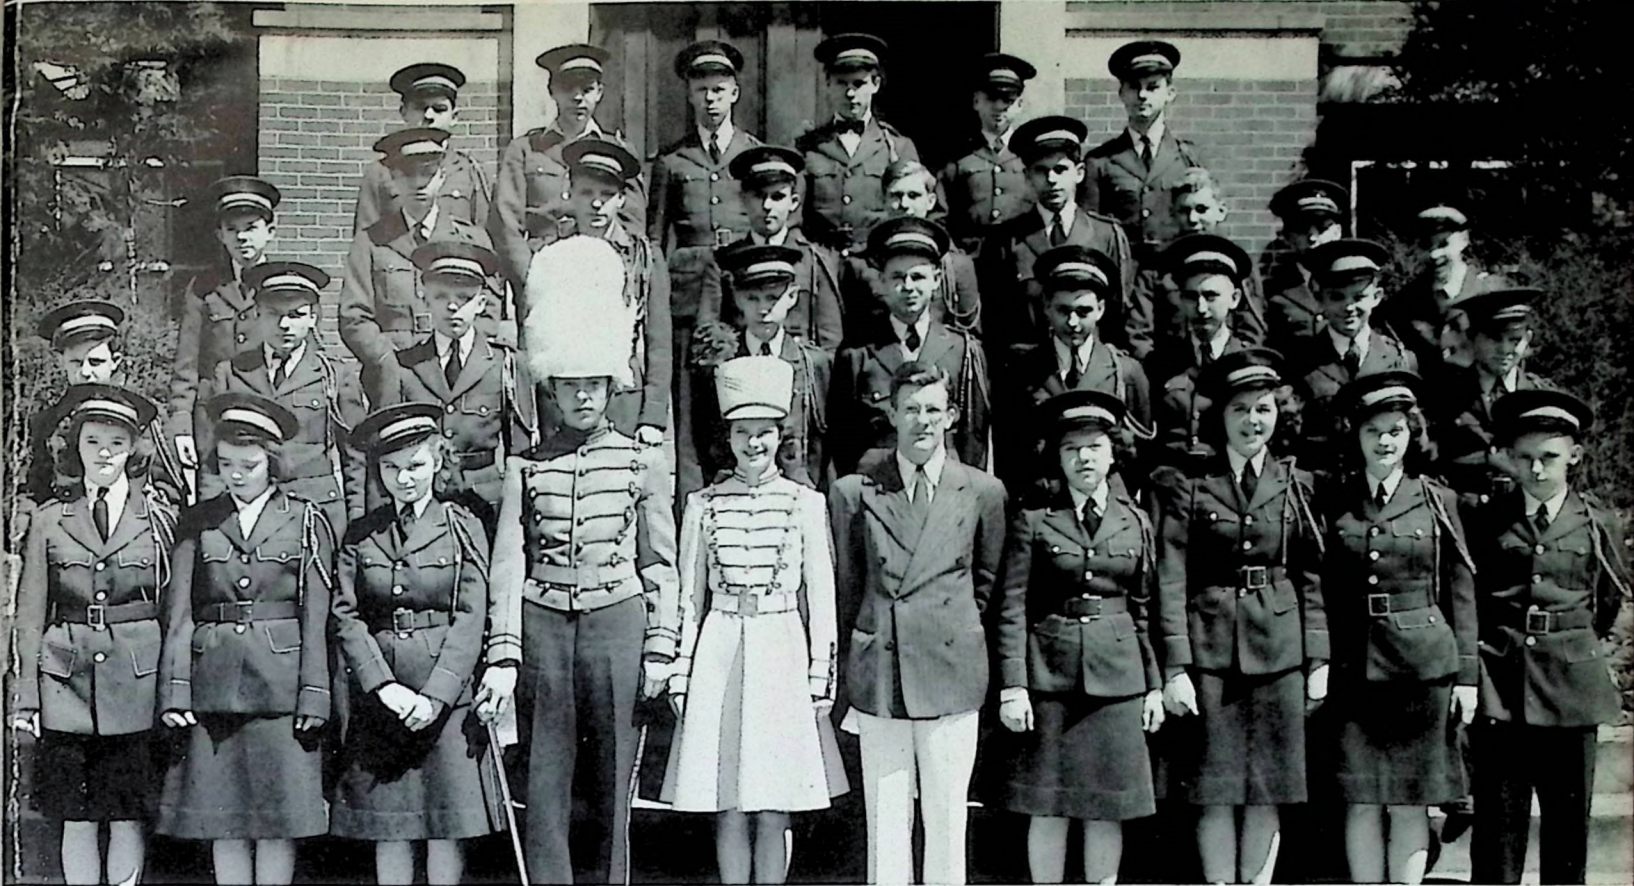

We, of the Annual Staff, have striven hard for the past several months to be able to present to the student body a publication that will merit their approval. Today you have that publication, The 1941 Capitolian, and whether or not it will be deemed a success depends upon the manner in which you accept it.

If you consider the Capitolian a success we are indeed proud that we could serve you. But on the other hand if the Annual is a flop in your opinion you may wire your feelings to the Staff's new headquarters located at Nome, Alaska, U. S. A.

Following an example set by last year's staff, Miss Genevieve Montgomery was chosen as the Faculty Advisor. Others on the Staff are; Bill Bixler, Kenneth Easley, Billy Graham, Betty Fraysure, Jean Anthony, Paul Demaree, Fred Mahan, Leonard Mitchell, and those necessary additions to every Staff, namely, Class Representatives, Home Room Representatives, and the typists (Bless 'Em).

Yesterday the Capitolian was ours; today it is yours. We hope you like it.

SENATUS POPULUSQUE ROMANUS

The Latin Club is divided into three parts: the senators, Roman people and slaves. It is sponsored by Miss Elizabeth Smith and presided over by the consuls, A. Caplinger and B. Carter. B. Fraysure is the quaestor whose duties correspond somewhat to that of secretary and treasurer.

All those who take Latin automatically become members of the club, but to get the much coveted Latin Pin, a high scholastic standing has to be achieved.

At intervals during the school year, groups of slaves are brought before the assembly and initiated, much to their embarrassment and the amusement of the other students.

CLASSES

Frankfort, Kentucky
June, 1951

Dear Evelyn:

I just got back from the derby and thought you might like to hear some news about the old class of '41.

As we rode down Fourth Street in Louisville, our taxi was brought to an abrupt stop. When I peered out the window to see what had happened, I saw that the wheel had just rolled off of the car in front of us. As the driver of the car stepped out, I realized that it was none other than Paul Demaree. Poor Demaree, always having car trouble! We asked him to join our party, and he scrambled into the car. He immediately began telling us that he was now living in Louisville with Kenneth Easley, who ran a drug store. He also told us that Spencer Merwin was running for mayor of Louisville with a "Kiss the ladies—to heck with the babies" campaign. (Babies can't vote anyhow.)

Soon we came to the Brown Hotel, which Demaree told us was now managed by Walter Childs. I left the party to go to the hotel beauty shop which I soon discovered was owned and operated by Hildreth Phillips and Juanita Florian. As their assistant, Louise Curry, jerked me into a little booth, I heard the end of a news broadcast from Brazil where Bertha Snelling was stationed as a United States reporter. The broadcast was followed by a transcribed musical program featuring the thrilling voice of radio's leading glamor girl—Frances "La" Marshall. She was singing "The Beams of the Sun," written by that up-and-coming song writer, Joe Hammonds. It was sort of a sequel to "Clair de Lune." Seeing a magazine on the table, I picked it up, and who should be on the cover but Nina Duvall, now known as "Miss America." Turning the pages of the magazine, I saw an article which looked interesting—"How to Get Your Man." Why, it was written by Betty Fraysure. And Betty an old maid!

As I left the beauty shop, I met Mary Elizabeth Watts, a member of our party, who said she had just caught a glimpse of Grizilda Allen, one of the many celebrities who had come for the derby. Grizilda was followed by her eighty-six year old husband. She always did like 'em old. Also tripping along behind her was her secretary, Oreda Cunningham.

Getting into the car again, we joined the steady stream of traffic headed for Churchill Downs. As I entered the gate, I bumped into Anna Marian Horn who I learned is now Mrs. Fred Mahan. At that time Fred was in the hospital for a broken neck but was recovering rapidly under the care of Jane Smith, registered nurse. Anna was with Martha Noel, the only woman who could ever type and sing at the same time. Anna told me that her twins were taking dancing from that master of the art—James Goins, who was assisted by his wife, Juanita Colston.

After I was seated in my box, I looked to see whom I could find of interest. In the governor's box was Dorothy Harrod, the first woman governor of Kentucky. She probably talked her way into being governor with the aid of Jack Allen, her campaign manager, who was also in the box.

Another member of her party was that distinguished heart specialist, Sherley Howell. He always could play tricks with the heart! Other members of her party were Misses Frances Riddle, important club woman, now interested in the betterment of public schools, and Marion Adams, an important personage in the musical world.

Since all these were former school mates, I decided to go over and have a word with them. When I asked Marian how her old friend Jean Todd was getting along, she said that "Toddie" would soon graduate from Eastern State Teachers College with honors. Well, it's high time. When they asked me how my old friend Evelyn Powers was, I told them that you and your husband, Bill Bixler, were now stationed with the army in the Hawaiian Islands.

Returning to my box, I was stopped by Louis Craig, who had just written a new chemistry book. He told me that he was assisting Leonard Mitchell, the eminent scientist, in some scientific research. I'd like to know what he thought would be scientific at the derby. He said that he had just returned from South America and would like news of Frankfort. I informed him that Jean Anthony was now running "Pete's." It had become quite a tough joint. And Jean won the D. A. R. Medal! I also told him that Frankfort High was carrying on in much the same way as of old. Lois Kerby, now Mrs. James Estill, and her husband were co-workers in the speech department. Since their marriage Tessie Whitt has simply been pining her heart away. I also told him that Betty Williams and Birdie Congleton were working with the commercial department. Louis said that nothing much had happened in the scientific world except that Eugene Wainscott and Doris Nesbitt had invented a new device which would do all their arguing. All they have to do is pick a fight and then the device goes to work. He also told me that in South America he had seen John Burdin in command of an expedition in search of buried treasure. William Reynolds and Robert Curry were in the company. The boys must have been reading too many fairy tales.

Back in my box again I hear the zoom of an airplane motor. As it came closer, I saw that it was advertising "Perkins' Purple Pills for Puny People," manufactured by Eugene Perkins. I realized that it must be Paul Morgan flying the plane for who else would attempt to fly low enough to make the horses wink their eyes?

Oh, and by the way, that's what I was there for—the derby. As I glanced to see if the horses were getting lined up, I caught sight of Billy Harrod limping along with the former Bebe Tuttle. Bebe and Billy had been married for a year and separated thirteen times. Not such a bad record!

Then my glance shifted to a box near the track. Why, it was occupied by two Broadway producers, Billy Graham and Ben Marshall. With them were none other than Dorothy Rogers and Christine Barber, who were chorus girls in the boys' latest hit.

Amid the shouts of "They're off" I heard some outstanding voices and turned to see upon a roof top Margaret McDonald, Ella Reed, Robert Armstrong, and Billy Fields. Fields had his feet hanging over the edge of the roof. In the shade below were Caroline Brislan and Christine Games, appearing to be taking it easy. Then my view was blocked by a newspaper which fell on my head. Taking it off, I was surprised to see on the front page a picture of Helen Johnson and Sara Frances Wilson, who had just won a "Mutt and Jeff" contest.

Pitching the paper away, I began to watch the race. In the lead was Irun Fast, horse owned by Mary Alice Armstrong and Edith Yates, followed closely by Jean Whitaker's famous horse, Bagga Bones. On and on the horses went, Irun Fast and Bagga Bones taking turns with the lead. Finally Baga Bones made the grade and staggered across the finish line. I looked closely to see the jockey and lo and behold! it was Kenneth Aitken! Who rode who?

And so, Evelyn, I close my letter hoping that you recall as well as I the many happy times that we passed within the walls of Frankfort High School.

Love,

Martha Utterback

P. S. Lucy Ford was up from Florida for the derby. Guess you knew that she was married and settled down to grow oranges (?).
